

CALL FOR PAPERS 2023

The Editorial Board of the scientific journal “Rocznik Integracji Europejskiej” (“Yearbook of European Integration”) ISSN 1899-6256 invites to cooperate and submit scientific articles and reviews of scientific texts on the broadly understood area of the European integration process.

On the one hand, this means the possibility of relating within such a wide-ranging framework of issues related to law, economy, various manifestations of domestic and foreign policy, security, defense, environmental protection, cultural and social policy, and many others, the implementation of which takes place both directly at the level of the European integration process, EU relations with other international organizations and state and non-state actors, as well as at the state level and the level of a variously constituted local authorities.

On the other hand, we would wish to create a space for reflection on the subjects of the (inter)cultural and historical dimensions of related events and ideas of the European integration process. In addition, texts directing their reflection toward methodological challenges are welcomed to find their presence here as well. These ought to cover among others those approaching characteristic for the sociology of politics and science, as well as those referring to the philosophy of knowledge. Simultaneously, especially recently, dynamic changes are taking place resulting from the intensively progressing digital revolution within this broad context. Not only does it affect the reality of functioning in the academic world, but it also changes the image of previously existing education in general, seriously affecting the form and content of manifestations of communication present in various social and political dimensions. Although the natural starting point for this journal is substantive areas within the framework of political science, international relations, and the science of communication and media, as well as dedicated to regional studies devoted to the European continent, we wish to underline here, that the RIE editorial board aims to enable here as well a space for interdisciplinary dialogue.

All submissions, after the initial formal verification, go through the review process. The texts are sent to external reviewers cooperating with the Editorial Office of the journal. The condition for publication is a positive assessment of the reviewers and the consent of the Editorial Board to include the text in the next issue of the Yearbook.

Articles must meet the following basic criteria:

- submission of an original text that has not been previously published and has not been submitted for publication in other scientific journals or collective works;
- compliance of the undertaken subject with the purpose and profile of the journal;
- high substantive value of considerations;
- correct text structure (IMRaD standardization);
- in the case of an article: clear formulation of a hypothesis or research question, discussion of methodological assumptions, appropriate selection of the referenced literature;
- stylistic and linguistic correctness;
- meeting the formal requirements and compliance with the editorial rules contained in the guidelines for authors of texts;
- filling in and sending, together with the text of the signed copyright statement in the paper version of the journal and in the electronic version, as well as ghostwriting and guest authorship declarations.

Texts in congress languages are preferred. Texts written in the English language are linguistically verified by language editors of the periodical.

The editorial office asks for submitting texts to the issue 17/2023 by August 31, 2023 via the PRESSTO electronic deposit system: <https://pressto.amu.edu.pl/index.php/rie>.

Text submissions are also accepted by traditional mail and e-mail to the following address:

dr hab. Agnieszka Bielawska - Deputy Assistant Editor
Faculty of Political Science and Journalism
Adam Mickiewicz University
ul. Uniwersytetu Poznańskiego 5
61-614 Poznań, Poland
e-mail: agnieszka.bielawska@amu.edu.pl or rie@amu.edu.pl

INSTRUCTIONS FOR AUTHORS

Submissions to “Yearbook of European Integration” must follow the journal’s style guide, including formatting, length and references. The author cannot edit the text during editorial work.

The size of the article, including footnotes and bibliography, should not exceed one publishing sheet (40,000 characters). Reviews, polemics and information should not exceed half of one sheet of a standard typescript.

EDITORING REQUIREMENTS

The text should be formatted as follows:

- a. Text editor: Winword, Times New Roman font, size 12;
- b. Line spacing - 1.5;
- c. Margins - 2.5;
- d. Name and surname of the author (Times New Roman font, size 12, left justified);
- e. University (Times New Roman font, size 12, left justified);
- f. Title (Times New Roman font, size 14, bold, centered);
- g. Subtitles (Times New Roman font, size 12, bold, centered);
- h. Quotes should be placed in quotation marks (without italics);
- i. Italics in the text should be used only for book titles, article titles, short foreign phrases or names.

REFERENCES/FOOTNOTES

All references included in the reference list should be cited in the text, and vice versa. It is recommended to indicate the page for a citation.

References should be placed in parentheses next to the relevant information, opinion, view in the following order (name, date of issue, page), e.g. .:

- (Nowak, 1999, p. 10) - when the referenced work has one author;
- (Nowak, Kowalski, 2000, pp. 145-150) - when the cited work has two or more authors;
- (Inquiry) - we give the first word of the title when referring to a publication in which there is no information about the author;
- A fragment of the title (2 or more words) of a publication should be provided when there are several titles beginning with the same words in the bibliography.

Explanatory footnotes should be placed at the bottom of the page.

BIBLIOGRAPHY

Full bibliographic data should be provided in the list of the referenced literature (bibliography) at the end of the article. The list should be sorted alphabetically according to the names of the authors, and in the case of the publication date of the same author repeatedly, according to the date of the works in chronological order (adding lower case letters, e.g. 2003a, 2003b, 2003c).

For example:

- Barber B. R. (2003), Strong Democracy Participatory Politics for a New Age, University of California Press, Berkeley-Los Angeles-London;
- Friedent L. A. (1998), New Citizenship, „Media & Society”, vol. 18, nr 2;
- Inquiry into Democracy. Report (2003), Parliament of Victoria, <http://www.parliament.jhgiutiguigui.html>;
- Konstytucja Rzeczypospolitej Polskiej z dnia 2 kwietnia 1997 r., Dz. U. 1997, nr 78 poz. 483;
- Miserez M.-A., Switzerland: a country of politicians, 24.08.2009, Swissinfo.ch, http://www.swissinfo.ch/eng/specials/switzerland_for_the_record/world_records/Switzerland:_a_country_of_politicians.html?cid=669352, 15.10.2012;
- Nowak R. (1999), Władza i demokracja, [in:] Demokracja i władza, ed. J. Kowalski, Wydawnictwo XYZ, Warszawa;

TABLES, CHARTS AND DRAWINGS

Each graph, table, drawing etc. should be described with the title (Times New Roman, bold, 10) and the source (Times New Roman, 10). The title should be placed above, and the information about the source - under the presented graph, table or drawing.

The text should be accompanied by:

- Abstract in Polish and English, not exceeding 0.5 pages each. They should be placed at the end of the article;
- Keywords in Polish and English (max. 5), placed after each abstract, respectively;
- Information about the author:
 - a. Full name;
 - b. Degree, academic title;
 - c. Represented research institution / affiliation;
 - d. Exact mailing address, telephone number and e-mail;
 - e. Biographical information in Polish (150-200 characters);
 - f. Statement (<http://rie.amu.edu.pl/for-authors/?lang=en>);
 - g. ORCID number.

Authors of texts accepted for publication are required to send to the editorial office a signed declaration on the transfer of copyright for publication, on the preparation of the text and its original character.

YEARBOOK OF EUROPEAN INTEGRATION

“Yearbook of European Integration” is an academic periodical of the Publisher of the Faculty of Political Science and Journalism at Adam Mickiewicz University in Poznań. The first issue was published in 2007. So far, sixteen issues of the journal have been published.

The Open Access policy adopted by the our journal is based on the belief that the basis for the development of science is openness. It aims to enable authors to increase citability of scientific works by posting electronic versions of published articles in reference databases, in scientific repositories scientific repositories and on websites. The texts published in the journal "Yearbook of European Integration European Integration" and made available in PDF format are licensed under CC BY 4.0 (Creative Commons - Attribution).

Yearbook has been accredited by the Ministry of Science and Higher Education. Authors are awarded 40 points for publishing an academic paper in our periodical.

The journal is indexed in Index Copernicus database. Full versions of articles published in the journal are available on the PRESSTO platform, in the AMUR repository and in the CEEOL, BazHum, CEJSH, PBN Pol-Index, EBSCO, World Cat reference database. Our journal is also indexed in DOAJ (Directory of Open Access Journals).

The Yearbook of European Integration (ISSN: 1899-6256) has passed the evaluation process positively and is indexed in the ICI Journals Master List database in 2022. Based on the verification of information from the evaluation survey and the analysis of the journal's editions, the Index Copernicus Value (ICV) with 100 points. The designated rating is visible on the ICI Journals Master List.

In June 2015, the journal was included in the ERIH Plus list. The original version of the journal is electronic.

For more information, please visit <http://rie.amu.edu.pl/?lang=en>